FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The gift of timeless R&B this Christmas

Spend a little Christmas with Veronika is an intimate collection of Christmas songs, setting the scene for that festive feeling that is highly contagious this year. A masterclass in Christmas spirit, the album features a beautiful reimagining of two much-loved records. Immortalised by V's signature smooth vocals. Jackson Five classic written by Berry Gordy Give Love on Christmas Day, and the iconic track originally recorded by Nat King Cole, The Christmas Song. One of two original songs on the album is the lead single, What I Want For Christmas. A velvety R&B sing-a-long, filled with rich overlays, and sleigh bells over guitar riffs.

V reveals the inspiration behind her Holiday EP: "With everything going on in the world today, I wanted to create a body of work that felt very personal, something nostalgic that takes us all back to the true essence of what Christmas is all about... God, family, love, good vibes and togetherness." "Setting that intention was really important to me."

The soulful arrangement of unplugged acoustics on every track are a reminder that we don't need much to enjoy the magic of Christmas. And this season is the perfect excuse to spread love. V's timeless melodies give you cosy, festive sounds to add to your holiday playlist. With the high replay value of the album, it's sure to become one of your December favourites. To help you create a joyful Christmas every year.

You'll be familiar with V. Bozeman from her recurring role in the hit show Empire. And vocal production on projects with heavyweights like Timbaland, Lloyd and Justin Timberlake. Her sultry harmonies on Spend a little Christmas with Veronika is a glimpse into her debut album Crenshaw Prom Queen, which is due for a 2024 release.
